Luke Temple author visit

Both sites were visited by author Luke Temple on Tuesday morning. He really entertained the children by telling them all about the processes involved in writing his stories as well as tempting them with extracts from his books 'Blubbermonster' and the 'Felix Dashwood' series. A number of children were involved in acting out scenes from his books which helped to make the stories and characters come to life and the children got to ask him questions such as 'What books did you read at our age?' and 'How long does it take you to write a book?' Luke Temple returned on Thursday to do a book signing for the children who wanted to buy his books.

Holt Road Rock Steady Concert

The children who have been going to Rock Steady music lessons at Holt Road each week gifted us with a performance of George Ezra – Shotgun and Queen – We Will Rock You on Wednesday. Their parents were also invited to attend the concert and watch the children play the guitar, drums, keyboards and vocal. It was lovely to see the progress they are making. Well done everyone.

Y1/2 cricket taster sessions

Year One and Two enjoyed a cricket taster session where they practised their throwing and catching skills, as well as learning some trickier skills, including using the cricket bats and fielding. They showed great teamwork and were really engaged to learn a new sport.

Passover Morning

Wednesday was the day of Jewish celebration in Key Stage One as the children learnt about the Passover festival. They tasted food from the Cedar plate, and some children tried the horseradish, and pulled some interesting faces! They also listened to the story of Moses and learnt about some traditions that Jewish people take part in during Passover.

Collective Worship

Our value this half term is Compassion.

In Open the Book today we heard the story of Jesus' arrest. Judas, one of his disciples, secretly told people to arrest Jesus. When they came to arrest him, Judas showed them who Jesus was. They arrested Jesus. When he had been arrested, most of his disciples ran away although Peter stayed with him. He tried to attack the people who were arresting Jesus but Jesus told him not to. He said that God wants him to die for all people. The people who arrested Jesus then took him to the religious leaders. The religious leaders had already decided that they didn't like what he was doing and found him guilty of lots of things which he hadn't done. He was forced to wear a crown made of thorns. This was pushed down on his head. He was dressed in a robe and then crucified on a cross. At the moment he died, it became very dark for three hours.

One of the things we can learn from the story is that doing the right thing may not be popular with other people. However it is unlikely that we will be arrested and crucified for it.
